Unique Kitchen Design

DESIGN FLAIR & CGIS

At Portland Collective we have a team of professional designers that have design flair, experience, and detailed knowledge of how a kitchen is built.

As soon as we've discussed your vision and desires for your space, our designers will create detailed layouts and high-quality CGI visuals to help visualise the finished look (example seen on the left).

HIGHEST QUALITY MANUFACTURE

With years of experience, we have perfected our manufacturing process. We offer the highest quality kitchens to suit any style or specifications.

Our product portfolio includes:

- The strongest carcasses available; total construction from 18mm material
- Over 100 colours and wood grain finishes as standard
- All units have top quality adjustable legs and Blum ironmongery as standard

COMPETITIVE PRICING & SUPPLY

Efficient, on-time, and accurate supply is a given when working with Portland. Due to our excellent supplier relationships and manufacturing methods, we have the power to supply many styles of kitchens within specified deadlines.

The nature of our direct kitchen supply also results in very competitive pricing. Even if you've fallen in love with a kitchen from one of the 'big brands', Portland is likely able to recreate it for sometimes as little as half the cost!

EASE OF INSTALLATION

Portland offer a design and deliver service for your kitchen project. This means that after working through and finalising design details, we will supply the kitchen to your site, at a time which suits the kitchen fitter you have chosen.

All Portland kitchens are designed with easier fitting in mind and the units are always delivered to site with factory fitted doors and drawers.

Not our words!

“The Portland design team were excellent – attention to technical and practical details that we hadn’t even thought of was impressive. The showroom provided a great opportunity to reassure us that the materials and style we had selected was right for us. Our brief wasn’t exactly straight forward but the design we got and the functionality we have is outstanding. General quality of the product is top end – often you would only see this quality from bespoke kitchen makers. We used a locally sourced installer, and he was complimentary about the quality, specification and picking list which was spot on. Well done to the Portland team – a happy client and would definitely recommend the product and service – exceptional value compared with similar product from a bespoke kitchen firm.”

Mr S Parsons, Reading UK

We are pleased with our Portland kitchen, the quality is great and the team worked with us to come up with exactly what we wanted, including lots of design features. I would also like to recommend the whole team for their confidentiality throughout the project, it was a renovation project which ended up taking longer than we thought and Portland were involved several months before we announced our engagement.

Mrs I Gardiner, Sutton UK

‘We used Portland when we fitted a new kitchen in our previous house and were so pleased we went straight to them for the new kitchen in our new house. They continue to be a good supplier of quality kitchens at a competitive price.’
